Glossary

Basis point: 1/100th of 1 percent.

Carry: The amount of return that accrues from investing in fixed income or currency forward contracts.

Cost of debt: The effective rate that a company must pay in order to borrow from capital markets.

Drawdown: Measurement of percentage drop from the most recent high.

Duration: A measure of a bond's sensitivity to changes in interest rates. The weighted average accounts for the various durations of the bonds purchased as well as the proportion of the total government bond portfolio that they make up.

Modified duration is a formula that expresses the measurable change in the value of a security in response to a change in Earnings per share (EPS): Total earnings divided by the number of shares outstanding. Measured as a percentage change as of the annual Index screening date compared to the prior 12 months. Higher values indicate greater growth orientation.

Earnings revisions ratio: The ratio of earning upgrades to downgrades. All things being equal, the higher the ratio, the higher the earnings surprise to the upside.

Equity risk premium: Refers to an excess return that investing in the stock market provides over a risk-free rate.

Estimated earnings growth: Encompass the estimated growth in operating earnings per share over the company's next full business cycle, typically three to five years.

Forward P/E ratio: Share price divided by compilation of analyst estimates for earnings-per-share over the coming 12-month period. These are estimates that may be subject to revision or prove to be incorrect over time.

Fundamentals: Attributes related to a company's actual operations and production as opposed to changes in share price.

Growth: Style of investing characterized by higher price levels relative to fundamentals, such as dividends or earnings. Price levels are higher because investors are willing to pay more due to their expectations of future improvements in these

Interest coverage ratio: Compares earnings before interest and taxes to interest expense.

Magnificent Seven: Refers to a group of high-performing U.S. stocks including Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Meta (META), Apple (AAPL), Google parent Alphabet (GOOGL), Nvidia (NVDA), and Tesla (TSLA).

Maturity: Refers to a finite time period at the end of which the financial instrument will cease to exist and the principal is

Price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio: Share price divided by earnings per share. Lower numbers indicate an ability to access greater amounts of earnings per dollar invested.

Spread: Typically refers to a difference between a measure of yield for one asset class and a measure of yield for either a different subset of that asset class or a different asset class entirely.

Tenor: Refers to the length of time remaining before a financial contract expires. It is sometimes used interchangeably with the term maturity, although the terms have distinct meanings. Tenor is used in relation to bank loans, insurance contracts,

Trailing earnings growth: A company's earnings per share over a previous period, usually a fiscal year, reported on a per-

Treasury Bill: A treasury bill (T-Bill) is a short-term debt obligation backed by the U.S. government with a maturity of one month (four weeks), three months (13 weeks) or six months (26 weeks).

Treasury Bond: A government debt security issued by the U.S. Federal government that have maturities greater than 20

Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS): Bonds issued by the U.S. government. TIPS provide protection against inflation. The principal of a TIPS increases with inflation and decreases with deflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index. When a TIPS matures, you are paid the adjusted principal or original principal, whichever is greater.

Treasury note: A debt obligation issued by the United States government that matures in less than 30 years.

Treasury: Debt obligation issued by the U.S. government with payments of principal and interest backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government.

Value: Style of investing characterized by lower price levels relative to fundamentals, such as earnings or dividends. Prices are lower because investors are less certain of the performance of these fundamentals in the future. This term is also related to the Value Factor, which associates these stock characteristics with excess returns vs the market over time.

Yield curve: Graphical depiction of interest rates on government bonds, with the current yield on the vertical axis and the years to maturity on the horizontal axis.

Yield To Maturity (YTM): The rate of return generated on these securities, assuming interest payments and capital gains or losses as if the instrument is held to maturity. The weighted average yield is calculated based on the market value of each security. The calculation does not incorporate yield from any derivative instruments that are part of the Fund's investments.

Yield to worst: The rate of return generated assuming a bond is redeemed by the issuer on the least desirable date for the Yield: The income return on an investment. Refers to the interest or dividends received from a security that is typically expressed annually as a percentage of the market or face value.
